EMPORIA DARKNESS.

Burning of the Light, Power and Ice Plant.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch).

EMPORIA, VA., May 22.—The Emporia Light and Power Company, likewise, the Emporia fee Works, were burned to the ground at an early hour this morning. The loss of both plants will aggregate the sum of $25,000, of which about three-fifths of its valuation was covered by insurance.

by Insurance.
Both plants were owned by the Emporta Light and Power Company, the stock of which is controlled by local capitalists. The enterprises have been in operation nearly three and a half years. Recently, however, the Richmond Engineering Company has operated the plants, as it has also the Emporta 'phone system.

system.

No one is able to state positively the origin of the fire, but when first discovered it was making fast headway in the saw-dust room, which adjoins that of the saw-dust room, which adjoins that of the boiler department.

During the next sixty days the towns of Beifield and Emporia will be in darkness, in so far as electric lights are concerned. Both plants will be rebuilt as soon as possible upon a larger and more up-to-date plan. By August ist the owners of the ice and electric light systems hope to be able to begin operation again. It is probable, however, that some arrangements may be perfected this week to supply an electric light service.

This is the fourth fire that has occurred in Beliedd during the past forty days. This last, however, may be considered the most destructive and which entailed the greatest financial loss.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SUFFOLK, VA., May 22.—At 3 o'clock in the morning sixteen-year-old Henry L. Potter, of Suffolk, developed somnambulistic symptoms, and leaving bed, jumped from a second-story window, landing on a brick pavement. His injuries were slight. While trying to reenter the house through a rear window, a policeman took Potter for a burgiar, and but for hasty explanations would have arrested him.

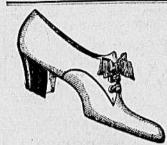

Three Tickets.

WINCHESTER, VA., May 22.—The nuncipal campaign for six members of the Common Consell bags, in cases. the Common Council began in earnest to-day, when a third ticket entered the contest, it having been nominated by the Republicans. The Citizens' League, which stands for reform and good government, has endorsed two of the Democratic nominees, and the result of the contest is causing great speculation. It is practically a fight between the temperance people and those not opposed to saloons.

Two Years for Shooting.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BRISTOL, VA., May 22.—Theodore Pyeritz, son of a popular Norfolk and Western engineer here, was to-day sentenced in the Hustings Court to two years in the Virginia penitentiary for having shot at Charles Brinkley, a locomotive fireman, with intent to kill.

The shooting followed the discovery that Pyeritz was keeping company with Brinkley's wife.

has lost much by leaving to a less wholesome axinosphere than the church could afford the innocent amusements and social intercourse which the people enjoy.

He favors throwing the church open frequently for the gathering of the membership for a social hour, to the end that they may be brought to know each other

"tips of the fingers" meeting of the prescent Sunday and Wednesday services.

He is also in favor of keeping the FORTRESS MONROE, VA., May 2,—

The principal business transacted at today's session was the settlement of the basis of representation. Heretofore the basis was one representative for the first thousand members, a second representative for 2,500 additional members, and an additional for each six thousand memhers.

The basis was changed to-day, by which The basis was changed to-day, by which every grand council having 6,500 members will be entitled to three representatives. The Grand Council of Virginia has about 6,500 members, and two supreme representatives. With an additional membership of 150, Virginia will be entitled to a third representative. The basis for each additional representative is 5,000 members instead of 6,000 as heretofore. This change will increase the membership of the Supreme Council from 106 to 116, an increase of only ten.

DANVILLE, VA., May 22.—To-day was observed as Confederate Memorial Day in Danville, and three thousand peopl turned out to pay tribute to the soldiers who had passed away during and sinc who had passed away during and since the memorable struggle. The exercises were in charge of the Ladles' Memorial Association, banded together to ever keep green the memory of the dead heroes. Prior to the exercises an elaborate dinner was served to the survivors of the Civil War, and each of the one hundred and fifty soldiers present, besides being given a sumptuous repast, were presented with tobacco and pipes.

given a sumptuous repart, were presented with tobacco and pipes.

At 4 o'clock the exercises proper were opened at the Ridge Street Tabernacle, and Mayor Harry Wooding, commander of Cabell-Graves Camp of Veterans, acted as master of ceremonies. If delivered the eulogy on the veterans who have, during the past year, resigned. Nine had answered to the call.

In his introductory remarks he paid a glowing tribute to Senator John W. Daniel, the speaker of the occasion, who was greeted by a tumult of applause. The Lame Lion and the distinguished Virginian was never seen in better trim before by a Danville audience.

Ho said in part: "My friend, Captain Wooding, has paid me many compliments, which I do not deserve. He has paid one, however, that I cherish more than all the others, which is that I am a Confederate veteran, and a soldler of a free people who accepted his fate without a groan. When the war first broke out, the leaders of the Northern forces, said people who accepted his fate without a groam. When the war first broke out, the leaders of the Northern forces said that the Rebels would be whipped by 75,000 men in ninety days. Instead of 75,600 men, it took 2,500,000, and instead of ninety days, it took four years. I do not object to being called a Rebel, and like George Washington, I rather cherish the name."

George Washington, I rather cherish the name."

Major Daniel in closing, spoke of the great prosperity of the South since the war, declaring that despite her riches and resources, the great blessing derived was the formation of a sterling character. The speaker's personal reminiscences to General Robert E. Lee, Julial Early and "Stonewall" Jackson were full of interest, and kept his auditors in a roar of laughter. Time and time over again, Senator Daniel was interrupted by applause, and several times, when he signified his intentions of closing, there were cries of "go on."

A special feature of the exercises, was the singing of the sunbeam chorus of 160 girls and boys, dressed in national colors, and under the leadership of Miss Happy Hall.

Why Doctors Say Drink Pabst Beer

Because it is Clean and They Know the Importance of Clean Food and Drink.

and Drink.

We have found by careful inquiry that doctors, in perhaps the large majority of cases, prescribe Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer because they know of its absolute purity and positive cleanliness. "It is the cleanest beer in the world," said one of Chicago's leading doctors the other day when asked about it. "What appeals to me," he said, "Is the Pabst process, so very different from all the rest. We doctors appreciate sterilization, and we are teaching the people in their homes the value of sterilization. On almost the value of sterilization. On almost cevery visit we make we emphasize that. I have visited all the breweries of importance in the country, and I finust say that for absolute cleanliness there is no beer to equal Pabst. I proseribe it my my practice and drink it myself."

In our own homes we insist most strenuously upon our food being clean. If we stop at a hotel or restaurant where the food or the dishes are unclean, we are quite likely to change boarding places next time. Are we as careful of what we drink? Purity is essential. We want the best always, and especially do we want it if impurity or adulteration means harm. But is not cleanliness in the preparation of our food or drink of equal importance? We think so, and we believe our readers agree with us that when we drink beer we must know it is not only absolutely pure and wholesome, but that it is absolutely clean. Pabst beer, as we said before, is recognized by doctors as the cleanest beer.

The aging of Pabst Beer is another point wherein the great Pabst brewery until science and the test of time shows it fully aged and mellow.

Captain Baylor, a Freight Conductor Knocked Off Track By Shifting Engine.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch) PETERSBURG, VA., May 22 .- The re organization and incorporation of Petersburg's James River Navigation Company and its purchase of a first-class twin-sorew steel steamer to ply between this city, points on James River and Norfolk, is the latest and a most important indication of the present great industrial activity and development in the city. The Pokanoket, which is now being overhauled at Norfolk, has a freight capacity of 489 tons, can carry one thousand passengers, and with a speed of seventeen miles an hour is said to be the fastest inland water boat entering Norfolk. She is 155 feet long, but draws only 5½ feet, thus being espe-cially adapted to Appomattox River navigation.

A large freight depot is to be erected at the company's Petersburg wharf, where the general offices will be located. The Pokanoket is expected to begin reg-

Behind the long name is a big enterprise The company has leased Campbell's Wharf, which adjoins the ferry dock at Norfolk. This will be rebuilt and transformed into a station, at which there may embark and debark passengers of the company's steamers. Five first-class steamers, some 250 feet long, will constitute the company's fleet, which will operate a water belt line around Hampton Roads, beginning April 26th, next, upon the opening of the exposition.

A boat is expected to leave this pier at least hourly during the day and up to a late hour at night. These steamers are expected to take passengers to the
